Douglas J. Richardson joins USfalcon Team

Morrisville, N.C. – USfalcon Inc. welcomes Doug “Spider” Richardson as the President, Aerospace Solutions Group (ASG) headquartered in Colorado Springs, CO commencing March 1st, 2010. Prior to his appointment at USfalcon, Brigadier General (Retired) Richardson was Vice President, C4ISR Solutions for Lockheed Martin Corporation in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Prior to retiring from the U.S. Air Force (USAF) in 2001, Spider served as the Commander, USAF Space Warfare Center in Colorado (now called the Space Innovation and Development Center); In 1998, he served as Commander, 53rd Test & Evaluation Wing in Florida, and in 1996, as Commander, 48th Wing, at RAF Lakenheath, in England; In 1995, he served as Director of Operations (J-3) and Chief of Staff, 5th ATAF Combined Air Operations Center (CAOC), Vicenza, Italy for Operations Deny Flight and Deliberate Force in Bosnia. Prior to that, he was the Commander of Air Operations in Northern Iraq at Incirlik Air Base, Turkey. He has flown the F-4E, F-15E, and F-16A&C fighters and was an instructor at the USAF’s Fighter Weapons School for over 5 years. He is a 1973 graduate of the U.S. Air Force Academy and holds a Masters of Science in Public Administration from George Washington University.

“USfalcon is very fortunate to have Spider Richardson joining our Executive Management Team,” stated Russ Johnsen, USfalcon President, “He is the right leader, with the exact experience we’re looking for to lead the growth of our Aerospace Solutions Group, with deep ties across the Department of Defense, the joint world and especially, the U.S. Air Force, Air Force Space Command and the Colorado Springs community.”

As the President of ASG, Spider will lead the organization that is responsible for Department of Defense (DOD) programs supporting Air, Space and Joint Warfighter and Material Commands throughout the United States.
